DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The objection to claims 16 and 27 is withdrawn by the examiner in view of the amendment filed on December 01, 2003.

Terminal Disclaimer

The terminal disclaimer filed on October 30, 2003 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of U.S Patent No. 6,395,948 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 16 and 17 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wu (4,827,064).

Wu discloses a polyalphaolefin product (oligomers of 1-decene) which has a viscosity greater than 30 centistokes at 100° C and has a pour point of less than -30° C. Wu also discloses that the polyalphaolefin contains less than 2 wt. % of dimer. It is noted that Wu does not specifically disclose that that product has a Noack number of about less than or equal to 3. However, the Wu composition is similar to the claimed composition. Therefore, it would be expected that the Wu composition would have Noack number as claimed. (See abstract; col. 4, line 63 through col. 5, line2; tables 2-3; examples 16-18; col. 14, lines 19-22).

Response to Arguments

The argument that Wu does not disclose that the amount of dimer in polyalphaolefin is less than 2 wt. % is not persuasive because as disclosed in example 17, the amount of dimer in the product is 0.01 wt. % (see col. 14, lines 20-22)

The argument that as shown at col. 7, line 9 and 10 of Wu, the trimer fraction as a viscosity of 3.91 centistokes at 100° C is not persuasive because Wu discloses that the oligomer of 1-decene has a viscosity of 145 cs (see col. 14, lines 5-7).

The argument that Wu does not teach the product has a Noack number of about less than or equal to 3 is not persuasive because the Wu product is similar to the claimed composition in terms of oligomer of 1-decene, viscosity, and pour point. Therefore, it would be expected that the Wu product would have the Noack number as claimed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1764
